

Never stop wondering.
Never stop imagining.™

MEDIA ADVISORY

Media Contact: Heather M Zielinski
PR & Social Media Manager, Arizona Science Center
zielinskih@azscience.org
d: 602.716.2066 | c: 480.329.5621

Arizona Science Center Offers Shutdown Special for Federal Government Employees

Two free general admission tickets with your federal government employee I.D.

WHAT: Got the Shutdown Blues? We are truly grateful to the federal government employees who live and work in our community. To show our thanks and take your mind off the shutdown, we're offering free general admission for a federal employee and their guest beginning Saturday, Jan. 12, through Martin Luther King Day, Monday, Jan. 21.

This offer is good for free general admission for a federal employee and one guest only beginning Saturday, Jan. 12, through Monday, Jan. 21. Please present your valid federal government employee I.D., at our ticketing center to receive offer. Tickets are valid for in-person purchase only. Not valid with any other coupons, offers or promotions.

WHEN: Saturday, Jan. 12 through Martin Luther King Day, Monday, Jan. 21 (5 p.m. MST)

WHO: Federal Government Employees

WHERE: Arizona Science Center
600 E Washington St., Phoenix, AZ 85004

ADDITIONAL OFFER:

Science With A Twist: Speakeasy
Friday, Jan. 18, 2019 | 6-10 p.m.

Ladies, slip on your most extravagant flapper dress and gentlemen, break out your sharpest suit, we've got an evening of science with a speakeasy twist. Enjoy prohibition-era style music and specialty cocktails including the Highball and Gin Ricky, while roaming all four levels of the Arizona Science Center. No snitches or anyone under 21 allowed.

For our federal government employee friends, we're offering one free general admission plus one free guest to Science With A Twist: Speakeasy on Friday, Jan. 18. Please present your valid federal government employee I.D., at our ticketing center to receive offer. Tickets are valid for in-person purchase only. Not valid with any other coupons, offers or promotions.

About Arizona Science Center

The mission of Arizona Science Center is to inspire, educate and engage curious minds through science. The Center, located at 600 E. Washington Street in downtown Phoenix, features more than 300 hands-on exhibits, live demonstrations, the state-of-the-art Dorrance Planetarium and the five-story screen Irene P. Flinn Theater. CREATE at Arizona Science Center®, adjacent to the main building, is the newest addition. This 6,500 square foot community makerspace provides workshops, including 3D printing, laser cutting, microcontrollers, woodworking and sewing. The Center also offers various programs for all ages. Programs include Camp Innovation, Teen Science Scene, Professional Development and Learning for Educators, and adults-only Science With A Twist. For further details, please visit azscience.org.

#